

Rt 9 Nighttime Flagging this week HAMILTON

While this is in the Catocin District, I wanted to make you aware of this it will be effecting many in the Blur Ridge District.

A flagging operation will be occurring along Route 9 between Route 287 and Clarkes Gap Road (Route 662) Monday night, May 2 through Thursday night, May 5 from 9 p.m. to 5 a.m. to allow crews to mill and pave the roadway, according to the Virginia Department of Transportation. (See map below)

Motorists should expect delays. All work is weather permitting. Message signs are in place on Route 9 to alert motorists to the work.

All my best,

Tony
